

MOBILE SECURITY Mobile Banking Units

Clients from the banking sector can find a wide variety of solutions for mobile banking units, which enhance their presence in the market thereby increasing possibilities for capturing new customers and giving better coverage to marketing and promotion campaigns. These mobile units integrate attractiveness, functionality and security, thus providing an efficient, safe and guaranteed product.

Mobile offices provide the same degree of complete banking service to the client as the traditional bank branches.

The design takes full advantage of the surface area by using simple lines and specially made furniture. The unit has satellite communication and therefore all transactions can be conducted in real time in accordance with the law.

The vehicle has all the technical equipment, security and communication systems in compliance with the legislation on private security, to function freely and autonomously for more than a week during office hours.

The units offer the following solutions:

Displacement: They provide access to areas where investments in real estate and human resources are not contemplated.
Opportunity: Participation in events, trade fairs and occasional or regular meetings.

Contingency: Temporary substitution for conventional offices.
Direct Marketing: An easily approachable image and service for clients.
